ANNOUNCEMENTS

Brian Goodwill: Don't forget your bell-ringing assignment in the next few days. The Red Kettle will be passed around today and available as folks depart if anyone would like to contribute.

Dick Jellum: There will be no more Nut Hut shifts. Today is the last day to order and all remaining items are at firesale prices.

Roger Moll: At a recent Kiwanis event, David Foster and Roger talked about dictionaries available for children. David had yellow edition dictionaries left over, as the blue edition is now the one distributed. Roger suggested the yellow editions could be donated to ACT Uganda schools in Muko Sub County, Uganda. After approval from Sue Waechter and approval from Kiwanis, the boxes of dictionaries are scheduled to go to Uganda next summer.

Duane Townley: Thank you, shoppers, for providing the gifts for the Central Elementary first grade students last Tuesday. The party was a success, and some classes have already created thank you notes for us.

Guests: All spouses, significant others, friends, and relatives joining us for our Christmas luncheon were introduced before the luncheon began. Two interclubs joined us: David Foster and Mercia Foster, Judith Unrath and Theron Unrath, all from Mt. Pleasant Kiwanis, and Russ Taylor and Dale Stroebel from Saginaw Thomas Township Kiwanis. Kristy Godley joined us from Circle K. Encore Strings, with Cindy Mikulin on violin and Mary Adams on cello, provided holiday background music.
